FOREWORD

With this issue The International Who's Who attains its majority. Its reviewers have described it as useful, invaluable, indispensable and fascinating, and each year it goes out in increasing numbers to libraries of every kind all over the world. In the coming years it will be our aim to maintain and, wherever possible, to improve the quality of this publication, so that it may continue to play its part as a valuable source of biographical information about the leading men and women of our time.

We have made every endeavour to provide our readers with the latest possible information about the people whose names appear in the new edition, and we would once again like to express our thanks to all those who, by completing questionnaires or by correcting proofs sent to them, have enabled us to bring our information up-to-date.

We would particularly like to emphasise the necessity for proofs of entries to be returned to us without delay, as only in this way can we be certain that every entry is as accurate and up-to-date as possible.

In those cases in which proofs are not returned, we make every effort to check the accuracy of the biographical notices. If fresh information is available from reliable sources it is added to the biographical notice. If, on the other hand, we are unable to check the recent activities or addresses of any entries, we are compelled to omit those entries from a new edition rather than to continue publishing information which may well be out-of-date and therefore misleading.

October 1957.
